Introduction

In this present perfect yet and already activity, students ask and answer questions about someone's bucket list using yet and already.

Procedure

Write 'bucket list' on the board. Ask the students what they think it means. If necessary, explain the meaning.

A bucket list: A list of all the things you want to do, achieve, or experience before you die.

Ask students what things they would like to write on their bucket list and write their suggestions on the board.

Next, divide the students into pairs (Student A and B).

Give each student a corresponding worksheet.

Explain that the students are going to ask and answer questions about Mr. Thomson's bucket list using the present perfect with yet and already.

Read the introduction text about Mr. Thomson to the class.

Student A then takes on the role of Mr. Thomson's assistant and Student B plays the role of Mr. Thomson.

The assistant asks Mr. Thomson questions about the activities he has or hasn't done to help him write his bucket list.

The assistant asks present perfect yes/no questions with yet and marks Mr. Thomson's answers on the worksheet.

Mr. Thomson replies using the present perfect with already for affirmative answers and yet for negative answers.

When the students have finished, they swap roles

When everyone has finished, go through the combined items that would be on Mr. Thomson's bucket list.

As an extension, the students can write their own bucket lists.

Student A

Mr. Thomson is a very rich businessman who has worked hard all his life. Recently, he has decided to create a bucket list and take a year off to do some of the things he has always wanted to do.

A. You are Mr. Thomson's assistant. Ask him questions about the activities he has or hasn't done to help him write his bucket list.

Example: Assistant: Have you driven a sports car yet?

Mr. Thomson: Yes, I have already done that. / No, I haven't done that yet.

Write 'yes' next to the activities he has done and 'no' next to the activities he hasn't done.

1. climb Mount Everest
2. go camping on a beach
3. see the pyramids in Egypt
4. meet someone famous
5. swim with dolphins
6. go skydiving
7. visit every continent
8. learn a second language

B. Now, you are Mr. Thomson. Answer your assistant's questions using the information in the box.
